A normal distribution curve representing the desirability of animals. The x-axis is labeled "Less desirable" on the left and "More desirable" on the right. The curve is divided into five colored regions: orange (leftmost), yellow, green, dark green, and light green (rightmost). The mean is marked at 100 with the label "Average of all active animals". Other numerical markers on the x-axis are 76, 88, 112, and 124.
