REGISTRATION OF HERD DESIGNATION MARK

In accordance with the Animal Improvement Act (Act No. 62 of 1998), a prefix must be registered on the Intergis for each Stud breeder. In addition, a herd mark (HDM) must also be registered. The HDM is a combination of one to four capital letters and numbers. It is used to indicate the origin of each animal within a specific breed. The HDM forms part of each animal's unique identification number and is awarded by the relevant Breeders' Association as no duplicates are allowed within a breed. Consequently this has resulted in some duplicate marks between breeds and with commercial animals under the Animal Identification Act's brand marks.

Due to two separate laws (Animal Improvement Act and Animal Identification Act) governing the identification of animals, there is sometimes confusion between the Police and inspectors of the Department of Agriculture. (DALRRD) To address this confusion, you are hereby provided with an Identifiable card to serve as proof that you are allowed to mark your registered animals, in accordance with the Animal Improvement act, with the HDM mark as indicated in this document.

You are requested to cut out the ticket below and keep it ready to display at all times to the Police, Inspectors from the Department of Agriculture or Veterinary Inspectors when request of proof of the use of the HDM marks of your animals is required. Please do not hesitate to contact SA Studbook for any inquiries or assistance.

Kind regards,

Dr Japie van der Westhuizen
GENERAL MANAGER

SA Studbook & Animal Improvement Association

In terms of the Animal Improvement Act (Act 62 of 1998), a Herd Designation Mark has been registered for the breed/s as indicated.

Animals identified with Herd Designation Mark are excluded from the stipulation of the Animal Identification Act, as stipulated in section 15.2.

Dear Sir

Hope you are well. You did not yet reply to my former email: kindly look at all three of your application forms through the years attached.

So Tuscan Mood was the Participant Name then it was cessioned to Bonnefooi (the secretary type wrongly) and now your participant name is Mellor Family Trust.

So as you stated in your e-mail that your herd name is trade marked, I was wondering if you did not want to remain Bonnefoi Tuli Stud trading as Mellor Family Trust?

As then we just do a cession for the wrong spelling.

Kindly let me know regards

Good Day Sir. Thanks I will ask Philina If I can just add this printed whats app to the form and then change the forms. I will let you know by tomorrow afternoon if we need to sign a new cession. regards A-M Tuli
